It has been a good year, a very good year. I have seen the faith of many people build a college on an old but sturdy foundation. I have seen answers to prayers that have been decades in the making. I have felt the power of God working in the lives of professors, students, and friends of Olivet Nazarene College. I feel that this book represents many hours of dedicated work on the part of Olivet's family. It has taken much of the joy, love, and fellowship of the campus and put it into pictures to show others of a Christian college called Olivet.

With joy I give this edition of the AURORA '67 to you, OLIVET.

BURKE ADMINISTRATION

Academic and social endeavor

Burke Administration Building is one of the oldest buildings on campus. After having the fourth floor completely removed by a tornado several years ago, Burke has constantly been under redecorating. Burke has become one of Olivet's landmarks of beauty.

Ludwig college Center is the pivotal point of the campus. Housing dining and recreational facilities as well as a barbershop, laundry, and bookstore, Ludwig has proven itself a blessing to the Olivet student body.

LUDWIG CENTER

Reed Hall of Science

Reed Hall is a great asset to our campus and a fine tribute to our president. Included in this science building is a green-house, an animal house, and on the top, an observatory. Within the building are classrooms, laboratories, faculty offices, and a beautiful lecture hall.

The pealing of the carillon calls students and faculty to Chalfant Hall four days a week for chapel. Named in memory of Dr. E. O. Chalfant, this interim chapel is also the scene of Lyceums, lectures, concerts, parties, and recitals.

Scientific and spiritual progress

Chalfant Hall

Mental and physical growth

New to Olivet's extracurricular activities this year was the intercollegiate sports program. Birchard Gymnasium was the setting for five of the Tigers home games. The gym also serves as the headquarters for the Physical Education Department. Other functions include offices for the Coaches, several classrooms, locker facilities for both men and women, and the "O" Club room.

Birchard Gymnasium

emarial Library

The Memorial Library, completed in 1956, has a quiet atmosphere conducive for study, research, or simply browsing. Its facilities include thirty study carrels, a typing room, a conference room, a music library, a current events area, and a microfilm machine. This comfortable three story air-conditioned building makes studying an easier task.

Flierman Hall

Flierman Hall, just south of the Administration Building, is one of Olivet's oldest structures. Housed within its walls are a few classrooms, practice rooms, and offices.

During the day, many students journey across the street to Goodwin Hall. Here they practice or attend lessons in the studios of the music faculty.

All home economics majors spend eight weeks in the Home Management House on North Main. Here theory becomes practice, and the students must utilize their knowledge in practical experience.

Cultural and domestic arts

Goodwin Hall

Home Management House

One of the original campus buildings, Chapman Hall houses about 200 freshman men. Included in its facilities are a prayer room, a television room, a game room, and a new lounge.

Home for about 200 men, mainly sophomores and juniors, is Hills Hall. Named after Olivet's first president, its facilities include a lounge with a fireplace, kitchen facilities, a recreation room, a prayer room, and a T.V. room.

Chapman Hall

Men's Residence Halls

Hills Hall

Williams Hall, named in honor of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Williams, is the home of approximately 200 freshman girls. Its spacious parlor and friendly atmosphere make the adjustment to college life less difficult. Mrs. Slagg is the head residence counselor.

Nesbitt Hall, named in honor of Miss Mary Nesbitt, was one of the first buildings completed during the ten-year development program. Housing approximately 150 co-eds and their head residence counselor, Mrs. Olson, its modern conveniences give comfort and relaxation after long hours of study.

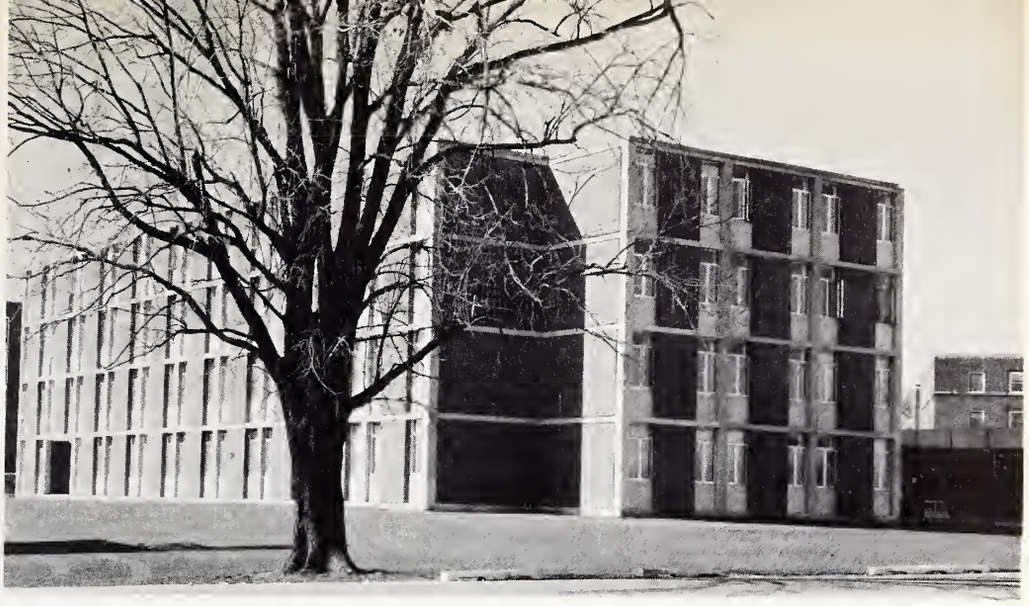

Williams Hall

Women's Residence Halls

Nesbitt Hall

McClain Hall

Dorm A

Designed like Hills Hall, the New Dorm adds beauty to O.N.C.'s campus. Its modern layout and luxurious comfort is enjoyed by approximately 200 freshmen and junior girls and their head resident counselor, Mrs. Evelyn Click.

Approximately twenty-four senior girls enjoy motel-like conveniences at their residence in Dorm A. Each room has an adjoining bath which adds privacy not available in other dormitories. This privacy is ideal for the schedule of a busy senior. Miss Beth Hatcher is the dorm's head resident counselor.

Living apartment style in Dorm B are approximately forty-eight sophomore and junior girls. This modern brick building is divided into eight units—each consisting of two large bedrooms, a study, and a bath. The dorm's head resident counselor is Linda Darnell.

Dr. Harold W. Reed

This has indeed been an exciting and victorious year. "This is Victory Year" has been more than a slogan, it has been a glorious reality. Victory spiritually—academically—numerically and materially.

The completion of the Ten Year Development Program was celebrated on Founders' Day. The climax of this tremendous event was the dedication of Reed Hall of Science. This was the fifth and final building envisioned for the ten year period, 1957-1967.

Our student enrollment is five hundred above that which was envisioned by the Planning Commission and the Board of Trustees when the development program was launched in 1957.

The professors assigned Divisional and Departmental Chairmanships this year will match the best leadership of any Christian Liberal Arts College in the nation.

Vice President-Academic Affairs
Dean af the College

The office of Vice-President in charge of Field Services and Development is occupied by Dr. Donald Gibson. In this position he strives for support of Olivet in all the churches of the educational zone, recruits new students, and raises funds.

Filling the new position of Vice-President in charge of Academic Affairs and Dean of the College. Paul L. Schwada has done a remarkable job. Among his responsibilities this past year have been all matters pertaining to instructional and educational affairs, such as arranging teaching loads, recruiting new faculty, and scheduling final exams. It is also his responsibility to serve as Director of the Summer School Session.

Since 1955, Dr. John H. Cotner has served as Dean of Students. This is his first full year to serve as Vice-President in Charge of Spiritual Life and Student Affairs. In his newest capacity, Dr. Cotner has helped start and supervise many new programs under Spiritual Outreach, a new program which makes possible student participation on the local church level.

Dr. Samuel David Beeman capably serves as Assistant Dean of Instruction. He is constantly harassed with matters of late tests, holiday absences, and research studies concerning academic programs. Dr. Beeman is also supervisor of the Audio-Visual Aids Department.

The Division of Education and Psychology has made many advances within the past ten years. The faculty has increased from nine to eighteen persons. The new Department of Nursing will become a part of this division, eventually adding seven faculty members to the ever-growing list.

Olivet's recent accreditation by NCATE (the National Council for the Accrediting of Teacher Education) has been one of the most significant steps forward. Arriving at this goal has helped Olivet accept an all-college approach to Teacher Education. During the past decade the number of student teachers has increased from about thirty per year to one hundred and thirty. Plans are underway for initiating a masters degree in education in the future.

A major in Physical Education has been instituted; plans are being considered for a minor in library science; the psychology major has been strengthened; the elementary education major has been strengthened with greater academic emphasis; and a junior high major has been added. The addition of a Curriculum Center has strengthened the opportunity for teaching materials in both elementary and secondary education. This is a continually growing division.

It is the desire and purpose of the Division of Fine Arts to provide experiences and instruction in the Arts such as will enable students to leave the halls of Olivet sufficiently prepared to teach in this general area and/or to have developed an interest which will produce continuing appreciation for and participation in the finer aspects of our cultural heritage.

Over the past ten years the Divisional faculty has increased from twelve to fourteen full-time teachers, and one part-time. Of more significance is the depth of academic preparation of these people: one person holds an earned Doctorate, three have taken substantial work toward doctoral degrees, and by this autumn all will hold the Master's Degree. To keep pace with the growing number of students the divisional ensembles have increased from five to nine, thus giving more opportunity for participation in a musical organization.

It is with eagerness, resolution, and a deep sense of responsibility that the Division of Fine Arts faces the future, to still better prepare young people for lives of usefulness to God and their fellow men.

The Division of Languages and Literature includes the Departments of Classical Languages and Literature, English Language and Literature, Modern Language and Literature, and Speech. Some twenty-two members of the faculty offer courses within the division and, from the standpoint of student hours taught, its English Department is the largest in the College. The Division is concerned primarily with culture and communication; the student is taught the effective use of his own and foreign languages and is introduced to the "best that has been thought and written."

The modern Languages Department operates a modern and efficient language laboratory for its French, Spanish, and German students. Few colleges could boast of an equal demand for classical languages.

Alumni from this division are making a significant contribution to various professions. New majors will soon be offered and every effort is being made to keep abreast of the latest advances in teaching techniques and to employ the most effective methods and media of instruction.

CLARENCE GOTHAUS

Chairman Divisian af Natural Sciences
Chairman Department af Chemistry
Prafessor af Chemistry

The past ten years has been a period of significant change in the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. Before the construction of Reed Hall of Science, the sciences were located in various buildings on the campus: the biological sciences in Burke Administration Building, chemistry in Sanford Hall over the boiler room of the heating plant, mathematics in Flierman Hall, and physics in Birchard Gymnasium.

The new Reed Hall of Science brings the sciences together in one area. The nearly two million dollar facility includes the main building with classrooms, laboratories, and offices. The auditorium seating two hundred sixty people has a special folding door which divides the auditorium into two classrooms. In addition, the new facility includes a planetarium, an observatory, an 1130 IBM Computer, an experimental animal house, a greenhouse, and approximately a quarter of a million dollars of special scientific instruments and equipment to be used in regular courses and in research projects.

Olivet can anticipate a bright future for its constituency in offering the best in training in the sciences for its students.

It is the objective of the Division of Religion and Philosophy to acquaint each student with the heritage of the Christian faith and the doctrines of the various churches. It is hoped that, through the study of the Word of God, each student will be led to self-realization through a full commitment to Christ.

The Division is especially concerned with the instruction of those students who are studying for the ministry or other full-time service. However, it also strives to give each Olivetian a sound, basic religious education.

The Division helps prepare both lay and ministerial students for a life of Christian service in the church, continually hoping for new victories for Christ.

The Division of Social Sciences in the past decade has kept pace with the rapid growth of the College as a whole. All departments have been strengthened by faculty additions and academic upgrading. Business Administration has enlarged and modernized its equipment, Home Economics has increased its faculty, as has also Sociology, and History has added a full-time departmental head. The divisional organization has been strengthened by coordination of the departments under a full-time divisional chairman.

All the improvements are geared to the divisional goal of developing in the student a general understanding of social institution; an acquaintance with the political, economic, and social ideals and practices in American democracy; an interest in and a grasp of the social science with an opportunity to specialize in one or more fields; and an acquaintance with scientific methods of research in the study of society.

The training of young people on the graduate level for full-time service in the Church as ministers, missionaries, or teachers of religion in the various institutions of the Church is the objective of the Division of Graduate Studies in Religion. Now in its fourth year, the program included 31 students this year.

It is important for our future spiritual leaders to develop an understanding of and appreciation for the doctrines and standards which are emphasized by the Church, especially the doctrine of entire sanctification. Our future leaders must also be aware of contemporary issues in our theological doctrine and mission. The Division of Graduate Studies in Religion, under the direction of Dr. Perry, attempts to give the student this understanding, appreciation, and awareness. In order that these students may be Bible expositors, proficiency in the Greek language is included in the program of study.

In Dedication

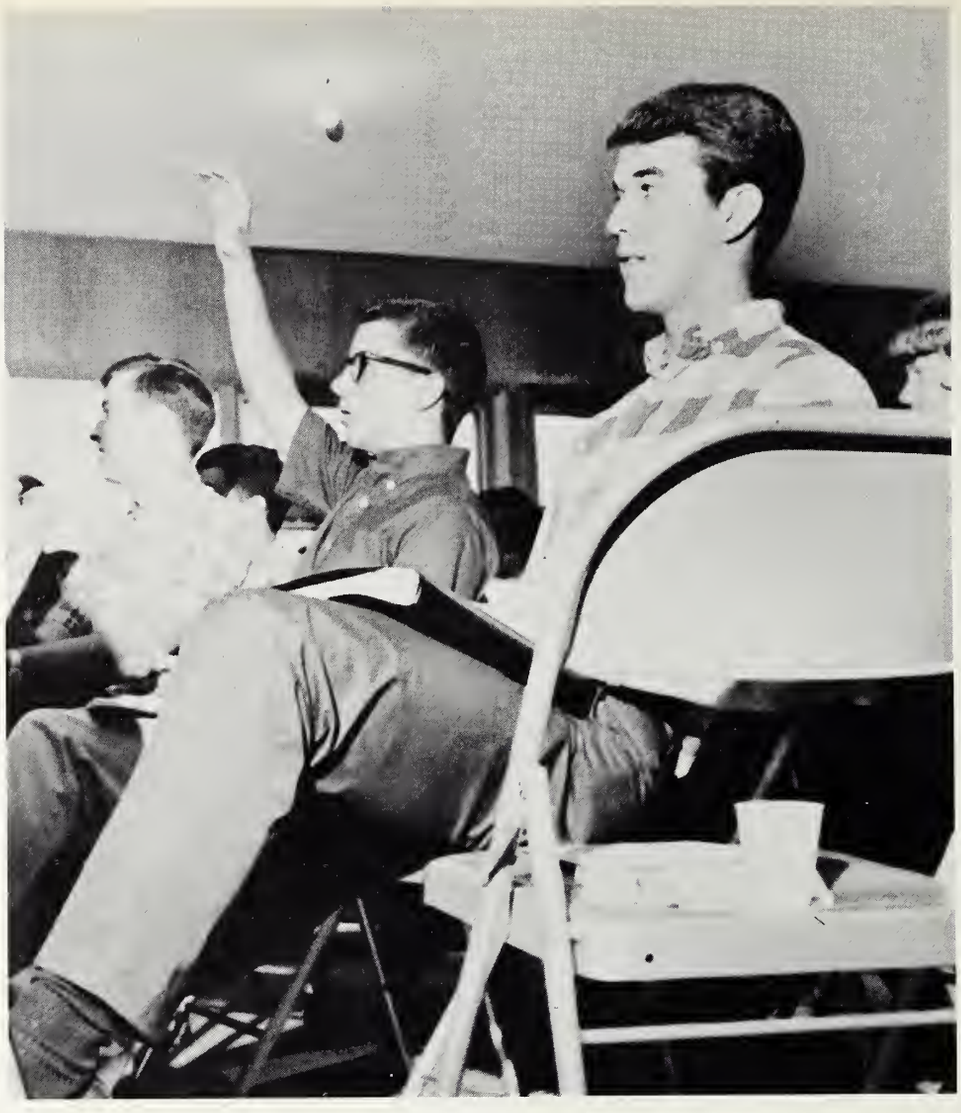

An ONC professor is a busy person. He is responsible for teaching and counseling students who often fail to recognize the sacrifices he and his fellow faculty members make. He must be in attendance at classes and faculty meetings, though he himself may wish he "had another cut coming." He must profess the experiences of salvation and sanctification, and express the spirit of Christ in the midst of frustration and opposition.

But what makes an ONC professor unique is not the things he does that he must do, but the things he does of his own will. He teaches at a holiness college at a "discount rate." He makes a monetary sacrifice to serve us. He is willing to meet us in our problems and help us work them out. Most of all, he prays and cares for his school. He is there at faculty prayer meetings and altar services. He gives from the very depth of his soul.

An ONC professor does his best to teach adequately his share of the college curriculum. But even harder is his attempt to guide a younger generation through the obstacles of doubts, fears, and questions that each must solve on the road to maturity.

Clubs & Organizations

Activated Learning

It is through organizations that we as Olivetians can serve both the college and community. Organizations such as W.R.A., M.R.A., Student Council, Student Tribunal, and Social Committee are composed of elected persons who serve to harmonize student activities on the campus. Through the Aurora and Glimmerglass staffs the events of the year are compiled, written, and recorded. All of these organizations contribute to the well-rounded college personality of the Olivetian. It is through these organizations that situations arise which we may meet later in life. Thus, organizations are not only the voice of the student today, but a training ground for life tomorrow.

Concentrotion on student problems.

Student Tribunal

The Student Tribunal is the supreme judicial authority of the Associated Students. The Tribunal is composed of nine members, chosen with regard to their qualifications for adjudication, by the Student Council. Ideally the members are chosen to the permanent position during their sophomore year. The responsibilities of the Student Tribunal are: to construe finally and authoritatively, and to decide cases arising under, the constitution of the Associated Students, to try all cases of impeachment, to decide all disputed elections, and to hear and decide all controversies between or among both the members and subsidiary organizations of the Associated Students. The Chief Justice of the Tribunal, chosen for his distinctive ability to interpret the letter and intent of the printed word, is Richard J. Nichols. The elected secretary is Jane Crisman, whose job it has been to record the substance of the somewhat lengthy, but always intense, sessions.

Student Cauncil

The Student Council directs all organizations and activities within the Associated Students. The Council convenes at least once every two weeks to discuss and plan for greater government policies, student activities, and entertainment that will work for the betterment of our Christian college campus.

The Child Care Program constitutes one of the most outstanding and challenging activities initiated by the Council this year. The Child Care Program provides for the Student sponsorship of community welfare children. In this, its first year, over seventy applications were received from Olivet students, and twenty-eight children found help and security in their student sponsors. Three parties—Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine—were given on the behalf of these children. Other activities included campus tours, sports, trips to Chicago and to the zoo.

Peggy Garner, Social Chairman

One of the most influential programs established by the Council was the Spiritual Outreach Program. This program was organized in order to provide opportunity for concerned students to be witnesses for Christ within the community and its surrounding areas. The four phases of this program are: SCOPE, Lay-witness, Servants of Christ, and Gospel Crusaders.

The Council also sponsored faculty and student forums, travelogues, and campus beautification programs.

JERRY HERTENSTEIN, editor-in-chief
first semester

The GLIMMERGLASS, Olivet's weekly student newspaper publication, was under the editorship of Jerry Hertenstein first semester of the 1966-67 school year. Purpose of the newspaper was to present campus news on school affairs for the Olivet family which includes the students, faculty and administration.

A majority of the news was printed in a straight, factual, informative matter. Top events were placed on the front page of the four page tabloid sized paper. The third page was given over to feature stories and a fashion column. The fourth page was devoted to sports and the second page to editorial and columnist comment. Except for the editorial page and copy written by columnists, an effort was made to delete the reporter's personal comment and opinion from news articles.

Several new innovations were initiated. The GLIMMERGLASS was printed on regular newsprint paper. Correct newspaper layout, following the eye pleasing horizontal style, was practiced. Headlines were written with the proper amount of characters in an attempt to have none too tight or too loose. Layout was built so that large type headlines were written for major items and given top play on the page. Two column leads on articles, odd measured column size, such as a column and a half size for some stories and only three quarters of a column line for others, various point size type, and column rules to properly separate some articles and absence of column rules in other writing to produce eye pleasing white space, were used to attract the reader.

Informative campus news in

JIM SMOCK, business manager

Photographs were utilized to illustrate articles while others alone told a story. The pictures were enlarged and most were engraved by a line process which provides a better newspaper reproduction than some methods employed.

The editor, in one of the few times in the history of the school paper, was able to work hand in hand with the printer. The paper was mechanically produced at a print shop in a near-by community where Jim Shaw, an Olivet student, is composing room foreman. Shaw did all the type setting, make-up and ran the printing press. Because Shaw is a student and thus familiar with Olivet's campus, a greater understanding was reached between the printer and editor. The paper was printed at considerably less cost than in some other years.

James Smock, serving his second year as the paper's capable business manager, was able to increase advertising. This, combined with the lower cost of printing the paper, provided a greater income. Smock also initiated a classified advertising section for student and campus ads.

Editorials on campus affairs appeared regularly by Hertenstein, Edith Holcomb and Carol Smock, who served as assistant editor. Dennis Kent commented on campus political affairs. Richard Nichols wrote on both campus and national political news.

Regular religious columnists were Dr. Forrest W. Nash, pastor of College Church of the Nazarene and Richard Ungerbuehler, a senior ministerial and honor student.

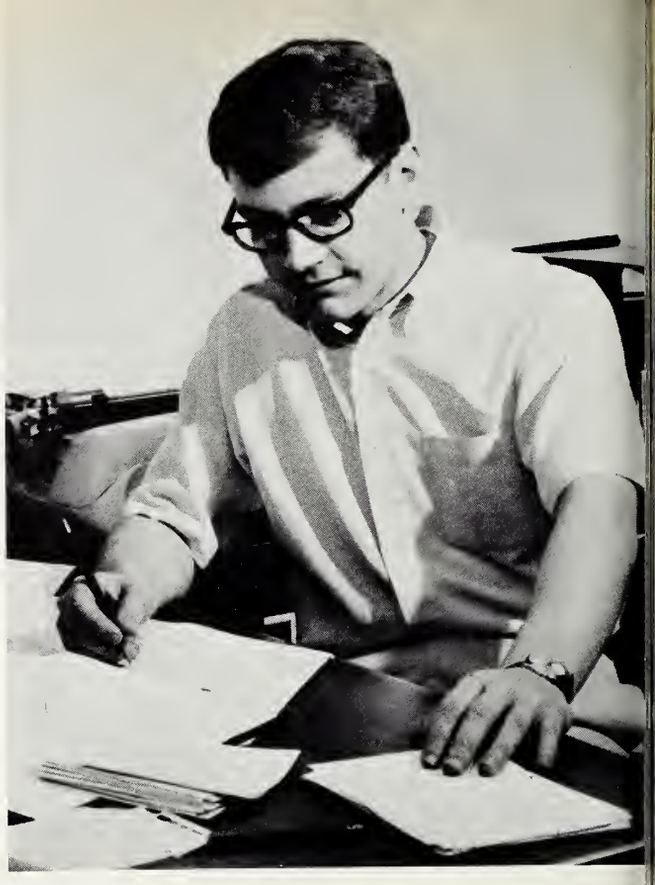

Marcia Morgan acted in the dual role of secretary and fashion columnist although a guest fashion columnist appeared from time to time.

Steve Sublette, Bob Lightle and Hertenstein were regular sports writers. Professor D. J. Strickler, Andy Holmgren, Douglas Fletcher and Gary Bond contributed their photography talents to the publication. Reporters were Lyle Winland, Terry Read, Ilene Lacy, Noel Wright, Marvin Ingram, Tom Patton, Ruth Henck, Glenda Kissee, Ruth Miller, Paul Zoroya, Harold Coomer and others.

Leroy Reedy, professor in the department of English, who teaches journalism and is also director of Olivet's news service and Dr. John Cotner, vice president in charge of student affairs, were faculty sponsors of the newspaper. They were available for counsel on any problem or question on policy making.

The GLIMMERGLASS was distributed to the students, faculty and administration each Friday morning following chapel. The weekly circulation totaled approximately 1600.

The making of a yearbook involves many things and many people. First, it must have leaders that are capable of carrying a double load—the yearbook and the textbook. Next it must have a staff with numerous abilities, for they must take pictures, draw layouts, write copy, crop pictures, proof-read, paste-up, and sell advertisements. Most of all, however, it requires long hours of hard work. With all things working together, then there is a yearbook, the AURORA 1967. And for the editor and staff there is a knowledge of what they have given and gained to make it possible.

Women's Residence Association is an organization whose purpose is to enhance the social and religious atmosphere of the campus and to help in matters of a judicial nature for the girls who live on campus. WRA also helps the new female student on campus to adjust to the busy but fun-filled college life.

To help these girls, WRA has initiated a Big-Little Sister Program. Each new Freshman girl is paired with an upperclass girl. It is the function of the older girl to guide the younger through the many problems that the new students usually face. This program has proved to be a great help to the upperclasswomen.

Activities sponsored by the WRA this year included: a Big-Little Sister Program, a slumber party, a Twirp Weekend, and the annual Mother-Daughter Weekend.

The Men's Residence Association has been an important organization on campus this year. Its purpose of providing the male resident student with an environment of Christian fellowship, while creating an atmosphere of spiritual growth, has led to many activities both on and off campus: tournaments, tobogganing parties, film-nights, and Fireside Forums during revival. The MRA has striven to adjust the life of each young man to that which is expected of him while at an institution of higher learning.

Creating in the young man the ideal of the school is a challenging endeavor. But this year a giant step has been taken towards this end.

Fellowship and exchange of ideas are what clubs are made for. From the scientist to the dramatist to the homemaker, there is a club for each. An opportunity to share ideas in one's field and to have fellowship with those you will be working with later in life. Clubs also open up many opportunities of learning that one does not receive in the classroom. Field trips, lectures, films, and even practical experience are offered thru clubs.

Alpha Tau Delta

Alpha Tau Delta is Olivet's chapter of Phi Delta Lambda, the scholastic honor society of Nazarene Colleges. The purpose of the society is to serve as an incentive for academic excellence by providing outstanding students the opportunity for recognition.

To be a member of the honor society, a student must maintain a grade point average of 3.35 for underclassmen and 3.2 for juniors and seniors.

The activities include an annual breakfast which takes place during homecoming, and an annual banquet during which senior members receive an honor pin and membership into Phi Delta Lambda.

The Sociology Club is one of Olivet's most active organizations. Each year it sponsors a field trip to Chicago to study the ecology of a city and to visit the museum of natural history.

It tries to make each student aware of existing social problems, social survey and research. It encourages discussions on social themes in order that students might be oriented to the social movements of their generation and make some contribution to our society.

This year the club began a Child Care program for the underprivileged children of the Kankakee area. Each child participating in the program had a student sponsor who made sure that he visited campus, attended parties, and felt that he had a real friend.

The purpose of the Young Democrats is to stimulate young college people to an active interest in government affairs, to perpetuate the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party, to acquaint voters and potential voters with the issues and the candidates, and to promote the highest degree of justice, social welfare, and happiness.

This past year the organization hosted Senator Paul Simon, an Illinois state senator, and many of the local candidates in the 1966 elections. Other activities included field trips to the Illinois Legislature and the Chicago City Council, and enthusiastic work during the 1966 Campaign and elections.

The Association of Married Students has become the fastest growing organization on campus serving nearly 500 men and women united through common interests. Organized to give married students a voice in campus affairs, the Association has objectives which have mushroomed to meet the growing demands.

In an attempt to promote Christian fellowship for its members, two family retreats were held at Kankakee River State Park. Babysitting service was offered to increase involvement in all school functions.

Future plans include weekly gymnasium privileges for married students and the establishment of athletic teams to compete in intramural sports is being considered.

The Sweetest Sound

In math, it is said that a whole is the sum total of its parts. But the same postulate applies in the world of music, especially in Olivet's music department. The whole is not contained in theory and methods classes, practice hours, instrumental ensembles or one of the four performing choirs, but is even more than the composite of these entities. To these must also be added the nebulous beauty of friends gathering to "shoot the breeze" in Goodwin's lounge, the close fellowship inherent in musical groups, and the learning, sharing, experiencing and understanding the priceless treasures of music.

In it's second year, the Heritage Singers, under the direction of Professor Ray Moore, did a fine job of representing Olivet at many of the different churches throughout Illinois and Indiana.

Not taking an extended tour as the other musical groups, the Heritage Singers' main purpose is to serve on the weekends. The sixteen member mixed choir also performed at the Mother-Daughter Weekend and for the Teen Banquet of the Chicago Central District.

The group sings a variety of songs including both sacred and secular.

ORPHEUS CHOIR

A Ministry in Music

The Orpheus Choir, under the direction of Professor Naomi Larsen, this year experienced the thrill of glorifying God through "Ministry in Music."

The forty-seven mixed voice choir, accompanied by Professor Ovid Young, gave concerts at Homecoming, College Church, and at many other churches throughout Olivet's Educational Zone during the year. They also sang for the dedication of the Reed Hall of Science in the Fall. Their Spring Tour took them to Michigan, April 19-23.

A Christmas banquet provided a time of social fellowship for the group and, to top off a successful year, they enjoyed a formal banquet held April 28, at the Kungsholm in Chicago.

Olivet's Treble Clef Choir has thrilled many this year with testimonies in song.

The fifty-five member all-girl choir, under the direction of Professor Irving Kranich and accompanied by Brenda McKenzie, has visited many of the area churches and provided special music both Sunday mornings and Sunday nights. In addition to this, the choir performed at the Homecoming Concert, Mother-Daughter Weekend, and gave a return concert at Trevecca Nazarene College in Nashville, Tennessee. The high light of the year was the Spring Tour, April 19-23, in Indiana and Ohio.

The busy year was topped off with a formal banquet at the White Fence Farm in Joliet.

Despite hard work, the group never failed their main purpose—to glorify God through their singing.

This year the Vikings—sporting brand new tuxedos—have maintained a busy schedule both on campus and on the educational zone. They performed in the "Frostiana" program, the Homecoming Concert, the Christmas Candlelight Service, and in several services in College Church. The year ended with the traditional home concert in May and the Commencement program in June. Vikings added to their schedule this year a classical concert with the Olivet Symphony and also a folk concert in the spring. Away from school, the choir presented concerts at the new junior college in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and at the Northeast Indiana District youth banquet. Again a highlight was the choir's annual spring tour, which led them through southern Illinois, and Missouri.

A closely-knit group, the Viking Male Chorus members enjoy several social activities. To aid with expenses, they conducted an extensive fund-raising drive with a candy sale this year. Besides the traditional weiner roast and steak fry, the men donned their tuxes in April for the annual banquet, held at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel in Chicago.

The Olivet Concert Band is the oldest musical organization at Olivet. Under the direction of Prof. Harlow Hopkins, the Band presents both secular and sacred concerts to numerous audiences each year. Besides the several on-campus concerts, the Band presents an annual five-day tour to churches on the educational zone. In this way the band is able to represent both the school and the Christ for which it stands.

This year the Band participated in the Dedication of Reed Hall of Science, played the opening strains of the Homecoming Concert, gave a fall and spring concert, toured Michigan, and ended the year with the majestic sounds of another graduation.

Senior Recitals

The Senior year of any college student is filled with many and varied events. For music majors one of these events is their Senior Recital. Besides being a requirement for the Bachelor of Science degree in music education, the Senior Recital provides for each music major his moment in the limelight. At this time his friends and family enjoy the fruits of four years of endeavor.

The selections performed are from various periods of music history. The music student begins to build a repertoire of music early in his school career.

Religious & Social

"Education with a Christian Purpose"

Christian commitment and purposefulness—this lies as the foundation of life and activities at O. N. C.. More than required religion courses, daily chapel, and prayer before classes, it characterizes the very heart beat of the college. More than a symbol or religious practice, it is life—life at its deepest dimension.

The central Christian motif of O. N. C. finds expression and fulfillment in and through the many and varied activities of the campus—through academics, clubs, sports, forensics, the fine arts, and, more expressly, the spiritual activities of the students.

The Prayer Band conducts services of praise, prayer, and testimony. The Missionary Band involves the entire student body in annual workshops and the all-school missionary project. The Evangels take the Gospel message to shut-ins. The Spiritual Outreach program provides a variety of opportunities for any student to become involved in the vital work of witnessing for Christ.

Dr. Forrest Nash

Adjacent to the campus of Olivet is a beautiful structure which is a visible testimony to Christ and His Kingdom. It is College Church and it stands as a place of worship for the campus and community.

Striving to be a home church away from home, College Church carries on a full program of Sunday school, N.W.M.S. and N.Y.P.S. Students are encouraged to find a place of service in some area of the church. The inspiration and uplift found in every service is indeed needed.

College Church joins hands with Olivet in seeing that each student has the opportunity to receive an "Education with a Christian purpose."

Dr. V. H. Lewis preached with spiritual insight

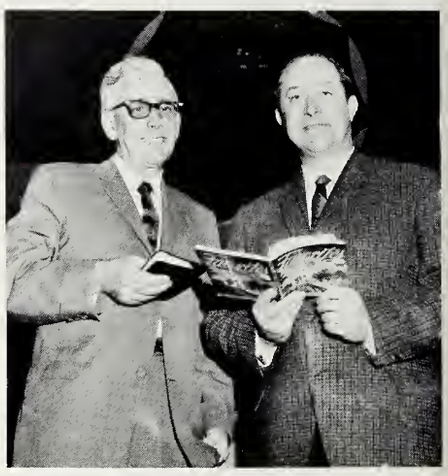

Revival Keeps the Spiritual Emphasis on Campus

Revival, to the students of Olivet, means a time of soul-searching, renewing of vows, and spiritual uplift. It is a time when our dedication to Christ, our church, and our school, is strengthened.

Dr. V. H. Lewis, General Superintendent in the Church of the Nazarene, spoke out of his heart to 1700 students in the Fall Revival. His deep spiritual insights and general churchmanship left a lasting impression on Olivet's Faculty and Students. Many found spiritual victory.

Dr. Edward Lowlor and Professor Gary Moore combined their dynamic talents in the Spring Revival with outstanding success. Dr. Lowlor's penetrating messages on holiness brought the people to a deeper experience of committment and service.

Our Youth Revival brought to our campus the deep, moving enthusiasm of Rev. Charles Millhuff. A recent graduate of Olivet, he was able to feel the pulse of the student body and the spiritual needs represented. His messages stirred our hearts and brought each of us to a time of personal inventory.

A Spiritual Uplift for the Day

"The family that prays together stays together." Because Olivet takes a small part of each day for devotional emphasis, we find ourselves a unified school, ready for the challenge of living Christlike lives.

Each year our Chapel programs provide spiritual inspiration of outstanding quality. The Nazarene Ambassadors stimulated us with their enthusiasm for missions. On Founders' Day the famed scientist Robert Wilfong challenged the educated Christian living in a scientific world.

Chapel is actually the only time during the entire year when the whole Olivet family meets together. Because of our various fields of study, the Chapel Committee selected many diversified programs, each designed to meet the needs of every student. These ranged from the A.A.E.S. and Missionary Conventions, to speeches from learned businessmen, including Bruce Brown, editor of the Kankakee Journal. One of the most inspiring programs was the series presented by the Spiritual Outreach Committee, resulting in broader scopes of witnessing.

Each Chapel service was enriched with special music, congregational singing, and subtle contributions of organ clarion, and piano. We are a unified school, daily committing our lives through Chapel.

Dr. Otho Jennings challenges the students to Haliness

"Lord, teach us to pray," has been the desire of the officers and members of Prayer Band this year. Prayer, Bible reading, and witnessing comprise the emphasis of this organization.

Each week night except Wednesday, students can be seen making their way to Kelley Prayer Chapel for a service filled with singing, testimonies, prayer and guest speakers. This year an effort was made to involve more students in the Prayer Band programs by encouraging different district groups to conduct services. Guest speakers were heard and enjoyed. They included a series of lectures on holiness by Dr. Otho Jennings, Professor of Sociology and Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences at Olivet.

A Christmas party and an outdoor service in the quadrangle were special features of the year.

The spirit-filled services of Prayer Band provide the perfect atmosphere for students to settle spiritual problems and enjoy Christian fellowship.

Holding services in the Rest Homes is one of the activities of Evangels

Each Sunday afternoon a group of concerned Olivetians visits the rest homes in the area. They take a little sunshine, joy, and the gospel to those confined because of age. These students belong to the Evangels, an organization stressing evangelism.

The Evangels program expanded this year to include twelve rest homes, and services at the State Boys Camp.

In the Spring, a Senior Citizens Camp was sponsored by the group. Several all-school activities were given during the year.

Dr. Orville Jenkins speaks to the club about Home Missions

A club with a "world wide" outreach is the Missionary Band. On campus this organization presents the challenge of missionary work to those planning to enter full-time Christian service. Reaching around the world, Missionary Band yearly sponsors a World Mission project to aid some mission field.

In October, a missionary convention was held with Dr. William Vaughters, director of the Spanish-American Theological Seminary. This was followed by a March convention with Dr. H. T. Reza, director of the Spanish Department at Nazarene Theological Seminary. The conventions, along with films on mission work and reports by the Ambassadors, made the campus aware of the importance of missions.

The World Missions project for the year consisted of raising $3500 to aid in the construction of a youth center in Argentina. Faculty and students joined in the realization of the goal.

Ministerial Fellowship

Boasting a record high of almost 200 members, the Ministerial Fellowship has been a very active and worthwhile organization this year.

The purposes of the Ministerial Fellowship are (1) To promote friendship, understanding, and fellowship among its members; (2) To increase the general efficiency of each member in terms of Christian leadership; (3) To provide our ministers-in-training the opportunity to hear representative speakers from various departments of our church; and (4) To secure, through united prayer and effort, the maximum divine blessing upon the Fellowship, the college, the church, and the world at large.

These purposes were well fulfilled in the year's activities. The Ministerial Fellowship sponsored invigorating lectures from which the men learned many of the practical aspects of the ministry. Highlight of the year was the educational and enlightening tour of our Headquarters and Seminary in Kansas City.

In the Power of the Spirit

Concern in action

An Opportunity for Dedicated Service

Henry Ward Beecher once said, "The call to religion is not a call to be better than your fellows, but to be better than yourself." Spiritual Outreach, which itself indicates that the practice of faith must be added to its profession, provides opportunity at O.N.C. for many avenues of Christian service.

The Spiritual Outreach Program is both diversified and flexible. Opportunities are offered that will satisfy any spiritual interest from evangelism to Christian social service.

Time commitments can range from a few hours a week to a full week-end. Service through the Spiritual Outreach Program is voluntary—born of a love for Christ and people.

Students have created the program with original ideas which have been adopted as projects on a school-wide basis. But, the real strength behind the Spiritual Outreach Program at O.N.C. lies in the fact that student involvement in Christian witnessing is an idea whose time has come.

SCOPE

SCOPE stands for "Students Concerned Over People Everywhere." SCOPE is a related program of student participation in the immediate Kankakee community. It provides means of involvement in and service to fellow human beings living close to the campus. SCOPE programs are carried out through the local community social agencies.

Lay Witness

Every student is a potential participant in this program. Any skill, from knocking on doors to teaching a Sunday school class, qualifies one for these activities. Special emphasis is placed on personal witnessing. Teams of students work in churches on the zone with their young people in calling, canvassing, and witnessing. They assist in Sunday school, church, and NYPS services.

Servants of Christ

For those who want to participate on a regular weekly basis there are many churches within easy driving distance of the college in which students can accept responsibilities. These include Sunday School teachers, choir directors, organists, pianists, and many other positions of service in the church. These students fill vital needs in our smaller churches.

Gospel Crusaders

Trained Gospel Crusader teams comprised of musicians, singers, and a preacher serve small churches with dynamic programs of witnessing and special evangelistic services.

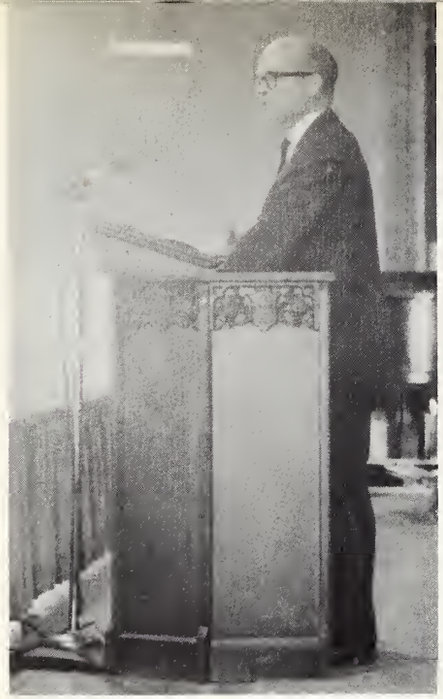

Candidacy in these groups is not difficult to obtain—and membership is almost certain for those who want to volunteer, not only their talents and hard work but also their enthusiasm.

Christian Scholars Join Forces

Discussian groups give students an opportunity to exchange ideas on important issues of this generation.

The American Association of Evangelical Students is the most representative student organization of evangelical colleges in the United States. The A.A.E.S. seeks to assist evangelical education to achieve its goals through extra-curricular programs. The Association provides a medium of exchange of ideas among member schools, and seeks to unify the efforts of evangelical students to serve as an effective voice in the secular world. Activities of the A.A.E.S. include a monthly regional newsletter, a national project, exchange chapel programs, a newspaper exchange, and the regional and national conventions.

Nearly 60 delegates from 14 Christian colleges gathered at Olivet on October 27-28 for the Midwest Regional Convention. The theme of the convention was "Our Christian Heritage." Through the lectures by noted guest speakers and discussion sessions, our Christian faith was explored as it relates to committed college students in the political, social, philosophical, and religious worlds.

taking off the dull edge

"Taking off the dull edge," can sometimes be a tedious process. Through proper cultural and social mixtures the edge of personality can be brought to the smooth edge of individualism. This year Olivet has reached a new high in social events for its large family. Homecoming started the events with a concert and parade that thrilled everyone. Next, the Christmas Party gave those who like to eat and just enjoy themselves a chance to do both. The highlight of the year was the Valentine Party with its guest, Toni Fontane.

Getting Acquainted with New Classmates and Meeting Old Friends.

A Fascinating Introduction

Freshman Orientation

Freshman orientation is a preview of college life for the new student. Upon arrival, he seeks the person who will be his roommate for the next few days. After carefully scrutinizing the numbers on the doors until he has located his assigned "420", he opens the door only to find that his roommate already has staked claim to the softer bed and the larger closet. The rest of his day is spent in meeting people while hoping to find that roommate who arrived first.

Next, he finds there are tests to take, preliminary schedules to fill out, interviews to keep, and then more tests to endure until it seems he will never get through. But the parties and teas which follow are reward enough for the confusion.

Of course, these were just typical trials of orientation but the college life that followed was worth it.

Registration

Pay Now — Learn Later

"In the beginning . . . ," there were lines, lines, and more lines. Chalfant Hall held these slowly winding columns of people who anxiously shifted from foot to foot and table to table as they went through the ordeal of registration. After waiting in line the minutes seemed to stretch into hours. Many participants were rewarded with sweetly spoken words such as "You're in the wrong line. Please go to the table across the room." or "I'm sorry, that class just closed."

Clutching long-awaited large, brown envelopes, which contained a meal pass, a post office box number, a chapel seat number, and other necessities which proved that their registration was completed, they fled from that hot, sticky building wondering just what classes they had really signed up for. One consolation was that soon it would be registration time again and maybe then they would have better luck.

Students pander the current discussion.

10th Annual Student Administrative Workshop

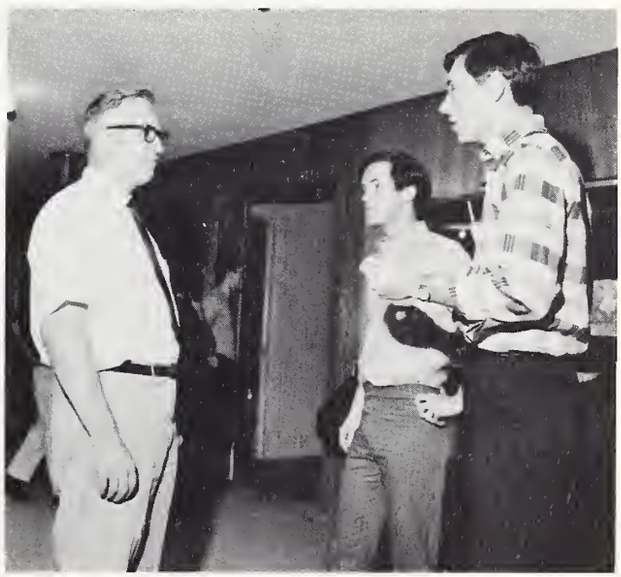

The Student-Administrative Workshop was established ten years ago to promote better relationships between the students and faculty. This year's conference, on September 12 and 13, was divided into sessions designed to analyze and discuss various phases of Olivet life.

The six sessions discussed "Olivet's Administration: Authority & Responsibilities" with emphasis on "Who to see . . . for What" and headed by Co-Chairman Dr. Cotner; "Creative Student Government" headed by Co-Chairman Duane Clinker; "Living in Ludwig" emphasizing food service and extra curricular activities; "Dimensions of Christian Discipline" concerned with discipline and interstudent responsibilities; "New Intramural & Intercollegiate Athletic Programs"; and "A Prescription for Student Christian Action" which dealt with Religious Club Activities and methods of student involvement.

Dr. Schwada and Duane Clinker talk before session.

The internationally known Roger Wagner Chorale with Orchestra, on its tenth Coast-to-Coast tour, appeared at Olivet on October 15, 1966. Recently the group toured Western Europe and Near Eastern capitals for ten weeks. Dr. Wagner, the director, is an authority on music of the Medieval and Renaissance periods.

Dr. Kloepfer is an outstanding speaker on crucial problems of the 20th Century. He is Associate Professor of Anatomy at Tulane University School of Medicine. He appeared at Olivet in cooperation with the Danforth Foundation and the Association of American Colleges.

The Majestic "Messiah"

Mike Weirman expresses his praises in sound.

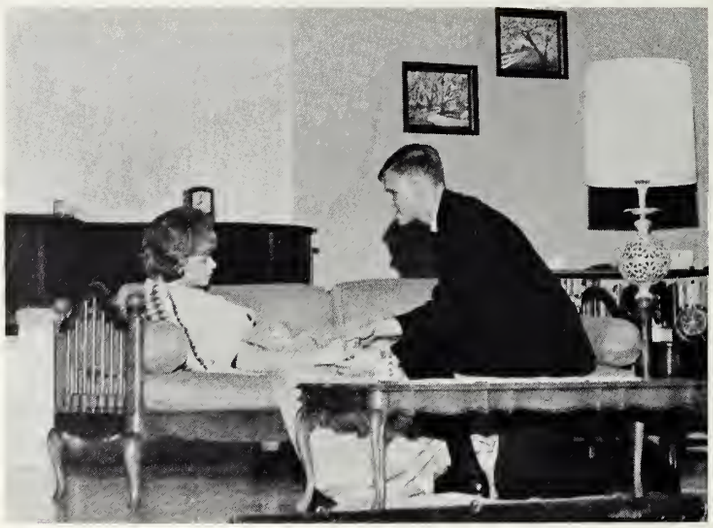

Handel's "Messiah" is considered to be the best known and most inspired oratorio ever written. It has been the tradition at Olivet Nazarene College to perform publicly this outstanding work which so vividly narrates the life, death, resurrection, and deity of Jesus Christ—the Messiah.

The soloists for the December 9 performance were Miss Elizabeth Hatcher, soprano . . Miss Phyllis Moreland, Mezzo-soprano . . Mr. Ronald Helm, tenor . . Mr. Terence Read, baritone.

Their final performance, December 11, featured Mrs. Margarita Evans, soprano . . Miss Karen Larkins, contralto . . Prof. Irving Kranich, tenor . . Mr. Charles Wilson, bass.

A Story of Faith

Tender communication persuaded Catherine Marsholl thot trusting God wos more importont thon fulfilling her duties.

Well Told Through the

The very much enjoyed story of Peter Marshall was brought to life by the Speech Club through the fall play. Three nights saw a crowd of Olivetians enjoying the fine acting in the presentation of "A Man Called Peter" dramatized from the book by Catherine Marshall. Mrs. Phyllis Holstein, with help from her student director Shirley Puckett, directed the play with success. The youngest member of the cast, David Murray playing the part of Peter John, added a spark of interest as well as change. Through outstanding stage direction, the scene attributed much to the response of the audience. The cooperation of all helped to make a memorable play for Olivet.

The housekeeper, Hulda, tried to convince Peter John that oatmeal wos good more thon three times a doy.

A Bovorion Village sets the mood.

This year's annual Christmas Party was held in a "quaint village in the Bavarian Alps," formerly known as Chalfant Hall. As the students stepped across a covered bridge, they entered a world of imagination, Yuletide atmosphere and romance. With stars above and snow all around, the guests were served a delightful Christmas dinner.

The Murk Family completed the evening with vocal and instrumental entertainment. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Murk, the family includes one young man and four lovely young ladies ranging in age from four to fourteen. They provided a very enjoyable evening with their vocal quartets, trios and solos. Guests also thrilled to the charming music of their stringed instruments.

Junior Retreat

One-hundred Juniors retreated to beautiful Pokagen State Park in northeastern Indiana on February 17-18. The retreat was set into full swing at 6:00 a.m., when five Seniors turned up in pajamas to serve Junior's breakfast.

Five hours later, the half-frozen Juniors arrived at their destination, Pokagen Inn. The activities for the weekend included skating on the lake behind the lodge, horseback riding, sleigh riding, and enjoying moonlit hayrides flavored with song.

Intramural Council Directs Recreational Activities

Organizing and co-ordinating the intramural activities throughout the year is the job of the Intramural Council. Other duties include purchasing of supplies and equipment, supervising the recreational facilities, programming intramural events, and recording society points to see which society will win the coveted President's trophy at the end of the year.

The Council is composed of the presidents of each society, the president of the student body, the chairmen of the departments of Physical Education, Speech, and Fine Arts, and the Dean of Students. The Dean of the College and the College President are ex-officio members of the Council.

It is a fact that Olivet Nazarene College has the most complete intramural program of any Nazarene College. In fact Olivet Nazarene College is the only Nazarene College that has a tackle football program included in its intramural sports curriculum.

This year's football program was under the supervision of coach John Crandall. Coach Crandall had the members of his football class coach the two teams made up of the freshman team and the upperclassman team. The upperclassmen proved to be the stronger of the two as they soundly defeated their younger opponents in the two games played.

All through this year's football program there was great enthusiasm displayed by the coaches and players, which enabled this year's Intramural football program to be a success.

Olivet's first intercollegiate basketball season wasn't without its difficulties as it experienced pains of birth and growth as any new innovation might. Perhaps the most difficult task was molding the team. Because most of the varsity players had played against each other for two or three years in the school's intramural program, it was difficult at the beginning to get them adjusted to playing together.

In First Intercollegiate Season

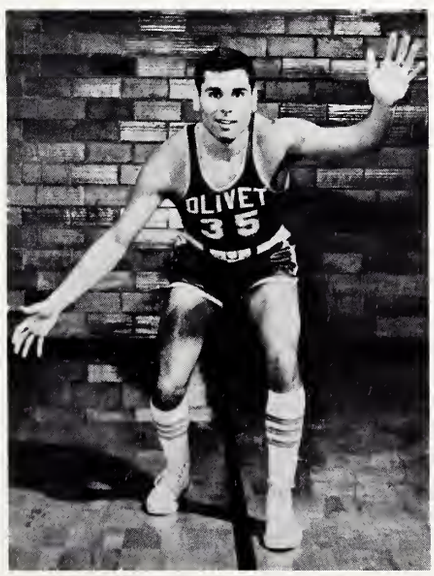

For the season, the Tigers charted .428 per cent from the field to the opponent's .486 per cent. Olivet accumulated a total of 892 points while its opponents scored 926. Five players scored 100 or more points with senior co-captain forward Ray Williams' 159 topping the list. Guard Ron Deal, the other co-captain, was next with 137 tallies. Bill Ulmet scored 122 points. Virgil Rush was fourth with his 106 tallies, and Lon Williams barely made the list with his 100 points.

Olivet's first varsity and junior varsity basketball teams are no doubt unique among the nation's hundreds of intercollegiate basketball squads. Not only do the Tigers play basketball when they are on the road, but often conduct most of the Sunday morning worship service at a Nazarene church in or near the community they are visiting. The one purpose of athletics at Olivet is to use it as a Christian witness.

From the Wittenberg Board at Greenville College:

SO WHAT?

Perhaps by now most of you are aware that on Saturday night Greenville plays its last home basketball game. SO WHAT!? Perhaps you aren't aware of what a real basketball fan is like. The team we play Saturday is from Olivet Nazarene College. This is their first year of intercollegiate sports, and boy are they enjoying it. Saturday night, you're going to wonder if this is a free Methodist or a Nazarene school. They're going to overrun us. They (the fans) are coming from hundreds of miles to see this game. There have even been special tickets printed for the game, so that the Nazarene fans could get reserved seats. They have rented a train to bring their fans. They are, to put it mildly, enthusiastic from the word go. And one other thing, they are not the fussy, griping fans either. They are All-American good sports who know how to yell. SO WHAT? If we don't want to get yelled right out of our own gym; its going to take the spirit we saw at the Rose Roly game, and even more. It's going to take the interest of you, each one of our students to plan on being there to yell our team on. Let's show the Nazarene team and fans that you can still have spirit even after decades of intercollegiate competition.

Suddenly the time has come!

This year's Senior Class opened its final school year with a banquet at the Redwood Inn, and at Homecoming the class again built a prize-winning float for the parade. One of the highlights of the year was the seniors' presentation of the Indiana University Gymnastics Team for a thrilling demonstration in athletic skill. Later in the winter the seniors served breakfast to the juniors before they departed on their junior retreat. At the end of May, the class concluded its college social activities with a two day long excursion.

Most senior thoughts throughout the year were, of course, concerned with Commencement activities. On Investiture Day the seniors said their farewell to Olivet, formally closing their days of leadership on campus. Then after Baccalaureate and the Annual Sermon and the class trip, the seniors finally marched in the procession they had anticipated for so long—their Commencement of 1967.

The end is in sight. We have finally chosen,

Responsibility was realized as the position of upperclassman was assumed. The Junior year has seen many achievements for the Class of 1968. The Junior Class provided the first live tiger for the homecoming parade and game. The first winter Junior retreat was enjoyed at Polkagan State Park in Indiana.

The members of the Class of 1968 have taken a startled look at the future as it seemed to suddenly jump up before them. As the coming final year rapidly approaches many have tried to fit in those much needed courses.

A more serious attitude has been taken to develop the potential God has given, to its fullest in every area for Him.

Our journey has become more serious

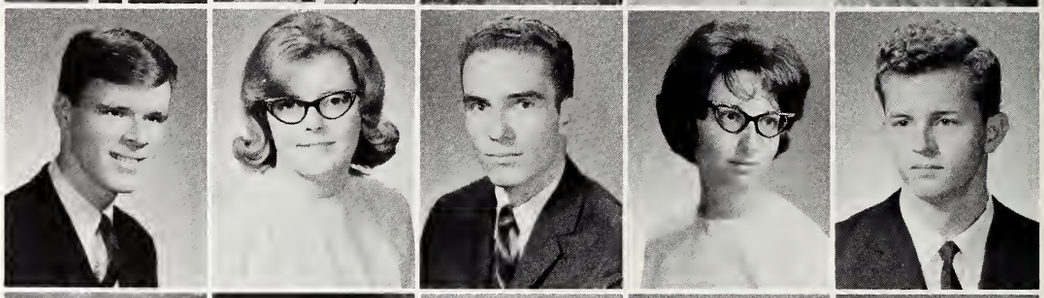

Accomplishment is indeed the word that describes the class of 1969. Many members have become an active part of O.N.C. working for Olivet as well as the Sophomore Class. The Sophomore Class managed to make the largest float to ever enter the homecoming parade and won first place in the class basketball tournament. The arrangements for the train ride and close work with the Sophomores at Greenville college also has shown the outreach and ingenuity of the Class of 1969.

Class spirit has been high with the leadership of many qualified students. As the year progressed, they realized that they still had much to learn. Many have begun studying more, praying more and serving more.

The beginning of a long journey

Upon their arrival at O.N.C. the bouncing and confident members of the class of 1970 met their first of many frustrating moments. Soon they adjusted to the new situations presented by college life and became an organized part of Olivet.

Individuals with vastly different backgrounds merged to make a power filled and unified class with the pursuit of intellectual expansion and the deepening of Christian growth.

They have begun to make a name and place for the class of 1970 in the history of Olivet.

TIME MARCHES ON

THE CHURCH GROWS; THE COLLEGES GROW

"The old order changeth yielding place to new
And God fulfills Himself in many ways."

Friends on whom we have leaned heavily in the past leave us to form a new educational zone and build a new college.

Dr. Reed presents plaques to each of the departing District Superintendents. Left to right:

E.D. Simpson, Missouri; Gene Phillips, Iowa; Harvey Galloway, Central Ohio; M.E. Clay, Southwest Ohio; Carl Clendenen, Northwest Ohio.

President Reed, the administrative officers, the faculty, staff and almost 1700 Olivetians join hands in saying,

"Thank you for your many years of sacrificial support in helping to provide an "Education with a Christian Purpose."

"The Lord bless thee and keep thee. The Lord make His face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee; The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee peace"

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE NEED THE SECURITY OF A CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

where they find Christian counsel in a Christian atmosphere . . . among Christian friends where they have the fellowship of those who care as they make decisions and experience new responsibilities

where they have an opportunity to learn to equate Christianity and all careers

PARENTS NEED THE SECURITY THEY RECEIVE

when they give their young people the opportunities of a Christian education

CHICAGO CENTRAL DISTRICT

is privileged to support Olivet Nazarene College which offers security to our young people and their parents
